

Role Play and Small World Area

In this area you will learn ...

- to express yourself.
- to explore language freely.
- to explore feelings and find out about yourselves and others.
- to develop co-operation, care, consideration and control.
- to exercise choice and make decisions.
- to develop a range of motor skills.
- to use your skills to make the things needed for their play and adapt, as necessary.
- to explore a fantasy world of your own creation.
- to use all kinds of language and listening skills when playing together.
- to create stories around things you know and allow you to fantasise about experiences that you have not had.
- to improvise and use the appropriate language including fantasy language.
- to communicate feelings in a safe way.
- to communicate findings and knowledge about life, books and television ...
- how to enter and leave a fictional world at will.
- to play together, to self-regulate and to exchange ideas.